Transit Bill Agreement Reached

Two County Legislators Concur on Waldie Action

Alameda and Contra Costa County legislators have agreed on final provisions of a proposed bill asking the exclusion of Central Contra Costa County from the Alameda Contra Costa Transit District.

Although the two delegations were at loggerheads over the original bill and amendments to the transit district law which was enacted in 1956, The Sun learned that an agreement had been reached late yesterday afternoon. The result of the agreement is that the central county area will be excluded from future bond elections of the two county transit district and it will be easier for areas wishing to obtain exclusion from the district.

The bill states that areas not in a special district formed within the overall district which is included in a bond issue shall not have a tax rate of over one cent per $100 of assessed valuation. However, no area may be excluded if it will create an island within the district itself.

The simplification of methods by which an area may exclude itself was one of the main objections to the transit district law voiced by Contra Costa County taxpayers.

OFFICIALS OF THE transit district, Alameda county legislators, Contra Costa county legislators and board of supervisors of the two counties have been meeting over the past several weeks to iron out differences.

John Worthington, general manager of the two county transit district, stated there are no major areas of differences between the proponents of the legislation.

The transit district's board of directors will discuss the proposed legislation at their Wednesday night meeting in Oakland.

Transit District Agrees On East Bay Interrogation

The Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District will conduct an extensive program of public hearings and meetings to find out what citizens think of the district's mass transit plan.

More than 100 civic, business, industrial, property owner and taxpayers associations will be individually invited within the next two weeks to study the plan. The organizations represent an estimated 20,000 business firms and individuals.

THE DISTRICT Tuesday also voted to seek the assistance of city councils to review the plan as it affects their own localities. Several public hearings also were agreed upon during the next two months as part of what could be one of the largest canvasses of public sentiment ever conducted in the area.

The transit plan was prepared last August by De Leuw, Cather and Company, and was the basis for the $16,500,000 bond issue that missed receiving a necessary two-thirds majority vote last November.

GENERAL MANAGER John R. Worthington told the Board of Directors: "Before submitting another bond issue, it is essential that we find out what the people think of the proposed improvements."

Tree, Seeds Sent Abroad By Brownie Troop Funds

In commemoration of International Month, Orinda Brownie Troop No. 97, a group of fourth grade girls, decided to donate money to Seeds for Democracy, which will furnish 15 packages of seeds to the Philippines.

THEY also elected to send money to the office of Forests and Friends, the Jewish National Fund, for a tree which will be donated in the troop's name and which will be planted somewhere along the corridor from Tel-Aviv and Jerusalem.

The money for the seeds and the tree was donated from the troop's dress money. The troop leaders are Mrs. R. W. Newman and Mrs. A. W. Springer. The girls in the troop are Marty Harris, Patty Cardin, Anne Pilgrim, Judy Springer, Ralyn Newman, Barbara White, Katie Christensen, Bonnie Minkler, Marcia Jackson and Gail Pinney.

Also to be viewed are old axe heads which were once used to cut into the soft bedrock, thus freeing the gold that had settled into cracks and crevices of the rich river bottoms. Skin diving, a relatively recent method of exploration for the Ruedrichs, has become a new and wonderful way in which to hunt for gold and find some of these relics. To further spur on the underwater exploration is the occasional sparkle of a nugget, or an old hidden crevice with its much sought for treasure.

Microfilming In Clerk's Office Asked by McBrien

County Clerk Walter Paasch won't get any more filing cabinets until he starts using space saving microfilming equipment.

This was the answer of County Administrator J. P. McBrien Wednesday in a personal memo when Paasch asked for six more filing cabinets.

PAASCH, who is not at his post because of illness, stated that he had no objection to the using of the microfilming equipment if it were located where he can get to it.

At present, the equipment is located across the street from the county Hall of Records in the Court House.

Paasch said that he asked for the equipment two years ago, but rather than being placed in his office, it was installed in the County House building.

"I have no objection to using this type of equipment, but I do object to its location and to the lack of authority over its use. I'll go ahead as soon as they give me control of the machines since I have a great potential for such equipment in my office," Paasch stated.

MCBRIEN ASSERTED that to purchase a second set of the microfilming equipment would be "costly duplication."

McBrien claimed that unless the space saving devices were used by the county clerk, all future requests for filing equipment would be rejected.

Free Tickets For Your Name In Classifieds!

Free tickets to the El Rey Theater, Walnut Creek or the Park Theater, Lafayette, await the residents who discover that their names have been printed somewhere in The Sun classified columns.

Each week, several new names will be added to the classified lists, and they can be spotted by quickly running down the lists.

The lucky people listed will each get two free tickets to either the El Rey or the Park Theaters, and free tickets were never more easily won!

Most people like to "take a trip" through The Sun classifieds each week just on general principles, whether they want to buy, or not — so you are joining a big company!

Although The Sun carries the largest classified section among local central county papers, you need only check the "Shopping News," or any of the subscription papers.

The "class" customer has the advantage of having his ad duplicated in each of those papers, all for the same low price.

Check your Sun Shopping News, or the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun today!

The Ruedrich family delights in taking off for the hills. Sure there's gold in them there hills, but even more fascinating is the call to treasure hunt. Any of California's mining areas, if explored very carefully will yield not only bits of gold here and there, but also artifacts typical of that once exciting age. It is this combination of gold and history that today attracts many people to the sunshine and warmth of our Sierra foothills.

On display at our new Orinda library are a few of the many interesting items that have been collected by the Ruedrichs over the past years. To be seen in our display cabinets are samples of gold from various rivers and creeks that today drain the ever eroding Mother Lode system. Gold scales and curious weights which were once used to determine the value of that elusive yellow metal. Old mining stock certificates that never realized a return for the investor, photographs taken in the 1880's of the Butte county Miocene ditch and flume. This venture took years to engineer, build and complete. The Miocene hydraulic miners roared for but a few days, only to be closed down. The United States district court injunction against hydraulic mining brought an end to another mining era. These photos and certificates were loaned by Gene Ahlf of Concord. It was his grandfather, Edward J. Davis, who engineered this once great hydraulic system.

Also to be viewed are old axe heads which were once used to cut into the soft bedrock, thus freeing the gold that had settled into cracks and crevices of the rich river bottoms.

Skin diving, a relatively recent method of exploration for the Ruedrichs, has become a new and wonderful way in which to hunt for gold and find some of these relics. To further spur on the underwater exploration is the occasional sparkle of a nugget, or an old hidden crevice with its much sought for treasure.

Parents, Students Work For Swim Pool Campaign

Hundreds of parents and school children have been working day and night to insure the success of the drive for $25,000 needed to build the Miramonte High School swimming pool.

Their efforts, plus those of individuals and organizations, will be climaxed by a house-to-house canvassing drive the weekend of February 27-March 1.

Plans actually call for two pools — the swimming area to be 42'x75' and a diving pool to be 30' wide and 42' long. Total cost is $50,000 to $60,000, all of which will come from school district funds except $25,000 which must be raised in the community.

A COMMITTEE of more than 80 parents has been guiding the campaign. Jim Dana and Bill Bowles are co-chairmen; Merle Brown, treasurer; Katie Flint, secretary; and Bob Wale, historian.

Legal advisor is Ernie Spiegel, with Odie Monahan as special advisor and Dr. Ralph Hall, school board advisor.

Also Jim Lewis, Miramonte principal and Dr. Nelson Webster as fund drive chairman, Spencer Archer and Al De Grassi are community public relations co-chairmen with Bob Callen as school public relations chairman.

A STUDENT committee is composed of Mike Wilmar, Diane Traverso and Vicki McCosker. Parent participation chairman for the initial drive is Gertrude Arighi. Final drive parent participation chairman is Betty Pilgrim.

The architectural committee is chairmanned by John Rinne, with Ed Hicks, John Zerkle and Raffi

SUNday 'Class' Offers Coverage, Re-Run Rate

A new, expanded coverage for Sun classified ads now allows a customer to place his ad in the new, widely-read Sun Shopping News which appears on SUNDAY, in addition to the Wednesday Sun Shopping News and the regular subscription papers which are published on Friday.

The new SUNDAY classified section is designed to give the Sun customer the ultimate in local coverage in the central county, when it is added to the Wednesday and Friday editions, already renowned for their results.

It also allows the customer to place his SUNDAY ad subsequent ads late as Thursday afternoon at 4:30.

OR, WHEN IT IS added to the previous Wednesday and Friday editions, it runs at a reduced "re-run" rate, which should make Sun advertisers happy!

The Sunday appearance costs only 80 cents when added to the regular Wednesday and Friday editions.

When it is the first to run, it is only $1.30 for the minimum 14 words, or less, and the following Wednesday and Friday editions go at reduced rates.

Jean Scott, Sun classified manager, said, "We have always believed, rightly, that the Sun Shopping News on Wednesday and regular Sun on Friday have provided the customer with the most for his money, but when we find an even better method, we will not hesitate to use it."

"WE BELIEVE that The Sun's Shopping News on Sunday is an important improvement, and will bring even more spectacular results than before, she added. She emphasized that there is NO increase in classified rates in any of the many Sun editions — only an increase in service.

The Sun expanded coverage has lent new emphasis to the rule that reduced rates can be obtained for the second and third week only by asking, with the first phone call, for a "two-week run," or a "three-week run," a "four-week run," or more.

Greatly reduced rates are available by taking a "multiple run" and, of course, the customer has the right to "cancel" after any run, when his items have been sold.

A SIMPLE phone call will accomplish that in a minute. For instance, you place a money-saving "two week run," and it will appear in 12 separate editions of The Sun for only $3.80. (Remember, you can cancel after Wednesday and Friday, or after the Sunday edition, whichever appeared first, and the charge will be only for that which appeared.)

The 12 editions are The Sun

Prize Offered for Most Items in 'Misc. for Sale'

A fast head start on that annual "spring cleaning" makes the whole process easier, and The Sun is offering a $10 cash prize to the person who starts fastest.

The prize will go to the person who puts the most items in a single "miscellaneous for sale" classified ad in The Sun.

The "miscellaneous for sale" classification is one of the most widely read of the entire Sun classified section, and each week thousands of items change hands profitably as a result of The Sun's coverage of the central county.

THERE ARE a lot of things lying about the house—in the closets, garage and in corners week.

which would be snapped up by others at a good price, if they only knew of their existence.

There is no good reason to throw things away, or let them go to pot when they can be sold quickly—in a couple of days—to people who are each week scanning The Sun's columns.

The "February clearance" contest will continue until February 24, when the deadline is 10 a.m.

Ads placed on that last day will go into the Sun Shopping News on the next day, and into all four of the regular Sun subscription newspapers on the Friday of that week.

Commuters Asked Not to Park in Shopping Area

"Please, Mr. and Mrs. Commuter!" Don't park all day in front of Orinda stores while you are working in other communities."

This was the appeal voiced Tuesday by Orinda Chamber of Commerce President John Ogden at the group's regular luncheon meeting at Casa Orinda.

Mr. Ogden pointed out that Orindans often drive to the shopping district and join car pools going to Oakland and San Francisco. This ties up street parking for fellow residents who want to shop in Orinda.

"IT'S JUST as easy to park in the property between Pine Grove and the Shell station at the dead end of Orinda Way," he said.

The directors also voted to ask for exclusion from the Transit District and supported proposed legislation now pending in Sacramento to make such withdrawal possible. Clarence Betz, Chamber secretary, said he would "do

County Grand Jury Plans To Continue Gill Inquiry

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury will continue its investigations into the activities of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District and Gerould L. Gill, commissioner-fire chief, according to Edward Valentino, grand jury foreman.

Following a three hour session in Martinez Tuesday, Valentino informed the press that the entire grand jury would review the Gill matter before taking any action.

MEETINGS OF THE grand jury's law enforcement committee, headed by V. Craig Bull of Orinda, have been held with Gill and with Gill's sons.

Following the meeting with Gill, the law enforcement committee met to consider its recommendations to the entire grand jury at Tuesday's meeting. Valentino noted that some additional information had been submitted which will call for additional study of the matter.

Valentino refused to elaborate further on what information had been presented to the jury or what action, if any, the grand jury will take at future meetings.

THE GRAND JURY conferred with District Attorney John Nejedly during the Tuesday session and according to county court house observers spoke with W. G. Bud Buchanan, chairman of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

The original discussions between the grand jury and Gill stemmed from revelations made in The Sun that East Contra Costa Fire Protection District taxpayers had been paying for classified advertising listings in the telephone directory for Marsh Creek Lodge which is owned by Gill.

Howard McNamer, county auditor, stated that he had been informed by Gill that the telephone classified listing had been cancelled by the fire chief.

The grand jury, according to everything possible" to support the bill which is sponsored by Assemblyman Jerome Waldie. Committee hearing is scheduled for March 4.

SPONSORSHIP of a program to encourage boys to learn better driving habits was asked for in a letter to the Chamber by Randy Jamison of Miramonte High School. Mr. Ogden said this type of group "gives boys an outlet for mechanical work and organized races with supervision."

Maynard Buehler volunteered to obtain more information for the board to consider.

THE COUNTY will be asked by the directors to reduce the speed limit from 55 m.p.h. on the freeway on San Pablo to 35 m.p.h. This was at the suggestion of Al Baer. Mr. Ogden said that the corner of Brookwood is particularly dangerous.

The Greyhound Bus Company told Mr. Betz that the official ticket agency will be Sports Unlimited, 17 Orinda Way.

Indian Dancer To Perform For Cub Scout Pack

Orinda Cub Pack No. 207 will pay tribute to the American Indian at their program March 3.

They meet at Gloria School at 7 p.m.

The boys will see Paul Moya, an Apache, in an authentic hoop dance.

DEN NO. 1 is in charge of the program and the cubs will present an Eagle dance. Boy Scouts of the Order of the Arrow, Concord, will also appear in costumes they made themselves.

Paul Moya will also appear with a group of Indians at Mosswood Park, Oakland, at 7 p.m., Saturday, February 28. Paul is from Arizona and will appear with a group of Indian dancers under the auspices of the Intertribal House, Oakland.

Parent's Club Plans Supper

Parents of children in kindergarten through third grade will attend Orinda School Parents' Club potluck supper meeting Thursday, February 26.

The event will begin at 7 p.m. in Orinda School auditorium. Parents are asked to bring a casserole, salad or dessert. Those bringing casserole are asked to bring them hot as there are no facilities for heating them. Knives, forks, cups and plates should also be brought.

The club will furnish bread and coffee.

Valentino, is also studying salaries paid by the East Contra Costa Fire District to Gill's sons and to his wife.

NO MEETING DATE on the matter was set by Valentino.

The East Contra Costa Fire District includes the Moraga-San Ramon, and Canyon areas and borders the Mt. Diablo, Central, Lafayette and Orinda fire districts. It is the largest district in the county and includes lands in the Second and Fourth Supervisory Districts.

The East County fire district is listed as a Class 10 district while Central is listed as a Class Three; Lafayette and Orinda are both Class Four districts by the Board of Fire Underwriters.

JOSEPH CONNERY, County Administrator's office, is conducting a survey of fire districts in the county including the East County Fire District.

His report will be presented to the board of supervisors in the near future, Connery stated.

College Faculty Hails Baldwin School Proposal

Members of the Diablo Valley College Faculty Association voted at their monthly meeting to send a letter of appreciation and encouragement to Congressman John Baldwin for his work on school integration.

Baldwin has recently introduced a bill which if adopted would provide for gradual integration of all schools beginning this year with integration of kindergartens and progressing through the grades at the rate of one grade per year.

The bill would also serve to put the power of its enforcement in the hands of the Justice Department. Responsibility for integration now resides with the courts.

Len Grote, president of the Faculty Association at Diablo Valley College, in concurring with the association's recommendation to send a letter to Baldwin, told Baldwin's efforts to draw upon community resources in drawing up the plans for his bill.

At one point in his work on the bill, Baldwin conferred with members of the Diablo Valley College social sciences area. Grote pointed to this meeting as an example of Baldwin's efforts to keep close contact with his constituents.

"Representative Baldwin's constant willingness to talk with and listen to the people he represents is a part of what makes him such a valuable legislator," Grote said.

Family Service Agency for Central County?

To conduct the study, a special committee has been appointed by the Section to suggest procedures for development of the project.

Ministers Fight Prejudice Problem

Church Must Lead Way, Audience of 100 is Told

By NORMAN COLBY

The "race problem" bothering central county homeowners was fervently discussed before an audience of about 100 people, February 12, at the Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill.

Panelists were a Walnut Creek Presbyterian minister who was raised in Georgia, Hillcrest's pastor who was born in New York, a Negro woman who lives in Lafayette and is a Christian and civic leader in Oakland, and a representative of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, which helps "non-whites" get financing for homes.

They all agreed that the problem of prejudice and hypocrisy exists now among area residents.

AND THEY AGREED that, as elsewhere, it will become more apparent in future months and years.

One of the ministers commented that the problem cannot be tackled directly by newspapers, banks or loan institutions.

Rev. A. Ray Petty of Hillcrest said, "They cannot speak. They are not, or cannot be guided by conscience, but the laws of profit and status quo."

He continued, "... Only the Church (leaders) can stand on their feet and say what they think."

"It is their duty not to be swayed in the wrong direction by their congregations. Race prejudice and its results are either right or wrong — I believe that they are wrong."

HE ADDED, forcefully, "If a church is not a social force it becomes the spiritual country club of its area!"

Petty was the last of the four speakers, in a public meeting sponsored by the Central County Council of Churches and the Fair Play Council.

The others were Rev. James Upshaw of the Walnut Creek First Presbyterian Church, Madie Lee Monroe of Lafayette, E. N. I. Mission Fellowship president, and John G. Anderson, regional executive secretary of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program. A genial atmosphere prevailed during what panel moderator Gibson Grey of the Fair Play Council termed, "The first public discussion of race relations in Contra Costa County."

THE WARMEST comments came from Petty, who at one point took issue with Rev. Upshaw.

Upshaw said earlier that the problem of discrimination against non-whites, and especially Negroes, in the housing field and elsewhere, should not be viewed as a matter so much of right and wrong, but as a challenge for the development of human relations.

Petty replied to him, "Christianity believes that prejudice is wrong."

He added that people should not think that businessmen are "nice" to sell Negroes homes. This is only a "placation" he said.

PETTY CONTINUED, "This is not the time just to sit down with real estate men, or talk about it in schools."

There should be control measures which insure that a man is not discriminated against because of his faith, feelings, or race.

"I am invariably disgusted and mad to have to take time in a community as intellectual as this to decide if we will allow others to live with us," he said.

He later added, "I'll fight for F.E.P.C. It can be done by legislation, not by just getting to know each other, as was said earlier. We must use the laws of the state."

REV. UPSHAW launched the talks by saying, "We should not look at it by what we ought to do, but by what we are going to do."

"A person in a minority group has just as much right to buy a house in this area or anywhere else as anyone has, if he is financially able."

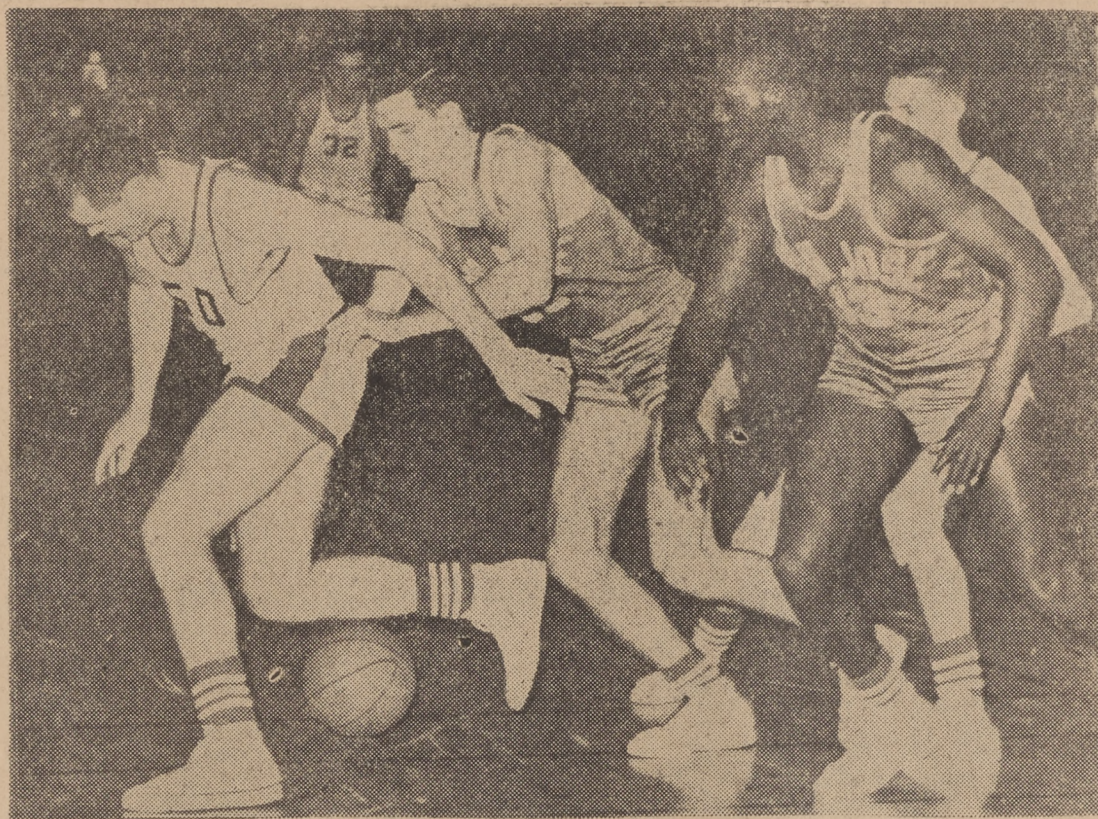

As for the Negro moving into our area — it's happening, but there is no problem unless we allow it to become a problem."

Rev. Upshaw continued that such talk would be heresy to his family in Georgia, and added, "We made slaves of the Negroes, but it was wrong."

BUT WE WANTED the cotton, the big houses, the liquor and good living it provided. We felt guilty about it, but as long as the Northerners agreed to it, and encouraged it, we could keep it."

"But when the Yankees didn't need the system economically, they said, 'You are sinners.' This was and is hard for the southerner to face."

"And we were afraid that if the Negro gets the upperhand, he would treat us as we treated him. But Martin Luther King has good insight into it as anyone."

ALL RIGHT, where's the ball Diablo Valley College and San Jose City College players seem to be saying during play last Friday night at the Viking Campus. Diablo Valley took the thriller 51-52. "He said we don't want to prove you are wrong; we just want to ride your buses."

Rev. Upshaw said that a positive solution is difficult but a step in the right direction is sitting down with the people who are prejudiced, and "walk around it, if necessary, and see what we can do."

HE ADDED THAT new legislation is needed, but added that at the same time, we should try to understand the prejudices of others.

He warned, "The Negro is entitled to his mistakes, just as we are." He added that Christian ethics means "relationships."

Mrs. Monroe told the audience that prejudiced persons should not hold themselves "responsible for something not entirely your fault."

She added, however, that there is no problem like that of the American Negro. Although there is not much mixing in the central county now, if there should be in the future, "... how are you going to face it?" she asked.

SHE SAID THAT the Christian approach is the best in this situation, and she repeated the statement made by Christ that from the multitude, his brothers and sisters were "... those who do the will of my father."

John Anderson told about the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, and how it enters the picture when a Negro or non-white cannot get home financing, because the credit agency will not loan to them because they are non-whites.

He said, "Financing a house should be a private enterprise, and the lending fraternities for that reason have a strong feeling against the program. The program works not as well as some would like, but much better than others expect."

He added that his experience has shown that where a Negro or non-white moved into a white neighborhood, the home values go down only where there is

"panic" selling, and in other cases, they hold up well.

He added that the general Bay Area practice is to confine Negroes and non-whites to "older properties."

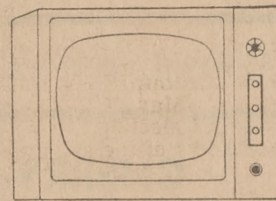

BUT IT IS perfectly natural for them to prefer sun, clean air, good schools, nice surroundings. And the white neighborhoods have most of that," he said.

"The restrictions are not part of a plot, but only show lack of Christian principle," he declared.

He added, "We will help a non-white get a new home, even if it is a so-called 'block-buster.' He said, "the big problem is that people usually don't know anything about a Negro family when they move in. When we get to understand them, we usually find know them as individuals and that they are high caliber people."

From the audience, Dr. Yoshie Togasaki of Lafayette, member of the county health department described the "subtle situations" where a non-white purchasing his home thinks all is going well, and then is rebuffed when it comes time to sign the contract.

OTHER FACTORS are that "we get timid," and there are the children and bad neighborhood relations, she added.

Scholarship Offered By Union Group

The American Federation of Musicians, Local 424, will select one string instrument player from Contra Costa County schools for a $300 scholarship, it was announced today by Gay Vargas, business agent for the local.

The scholarship, which will be one of approximately 100 donated by A.F.M. locals throughout the United States, will provide eight weeks of intensive instruction under noted string teachers at the renowned Oklahoma Greenleaf Lake Festival near Tulsa during the summer of 1959.

Travel and living expenses for the scholarship winner, and, where necessary for a chaperon, also will be a part of the award, Vargas said.

The string scholarship competition known as the International String Congress will provide winners with instruction under the supervision of Dr. Roy Harris, noted American composer-conductor-educator. The course of instruction will run from June 15 through August 8, under a faculty of internationally known artists.

The faculty and students will give some 12 to 14 free concerts to the citizens of Tulsa, providing for the faculty and students a direct relationship with the community, as well as concert stage.

The string competition is open to accomplished string players of either sex between the ages of 15 and 21. Applicants must qualify through community committee auditions and parents or responsible parties must co-sign the applications.

Vargas said that all school principals and music teachers in Contra Costa County will receive information soon regarding the auditions and application forms. Further information may be obtained by writing Vargas at 4-14th Street, Richmond.

New President Of Volunteer Unit Installed

Mrs. Bruce Howard of Orinda will preside over the newly-named board of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County. Mrs. Howard's former position was as a liaison between the board and the Junior League of Oakland.

To take office officially in April, along with the new president, will be Mrs. Charles Stimpson

School Teacher Number Increases

The number of high school teachers increased notably in Contra Costa County during the past year, in response to the recent upturn in high school enrollment.

Records in the office of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus disclosed today that the number of teachers employed under regular secondary credentials rose from 1554 to 1691.

At the elementary level, where growth has been consistently high, the number of teachers increased from 1894 to 1973.

The total number of professional personnel employed by the county's schools rose from 4728 to 5108.

These figures include teachers and administrators at all grade levels from kindergarten through junior college, both regularly and provisionally credentialed, and substitute as well as full-time teachers.

While the number of professionally credentialed teachers increased from 383 to 414, the training of such teachers was also up-graded.

Where 224 had bachelor's degrees last year, the number this year is 285. The total of provisionally credentialed teachers decreased at the elementary level and increased at the secondary.

More persons came back into teaching or entered the profession for the first time during the year, and more were residents of Contra Costa County or of some other section of California.

The number new to or returning to teaching rose from 394 to 432.

Installed

Installation of auxiliary officers was an added feature at a recent meeting of the Alameda and Contra Costa Counties Optometric Society, said Dr. C. A. Conrad, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting, held at 7 p.m. in Peluso's restaurant, Oakland, saw Dr. Raymond L. Eng, 1958 president, hand over the gavel to Dr. Ferd T. Elvin, the society's new president.

Auxiliary officers to be installed at this meeting by Mrs. William Anderson, national president, include Beverly Griffin of Concord, president; Gerry Ligon of Lafayette, first vice president; Jean Schwartz of Martinez, second vice president; Pat Reinke of Concord, third vice president, and Fern Garrett of Alameda, secretary-treasurer.

Polio Shots Will Be Available On Wednesday

"Two out of every five cases of crippling polio occur among adults," Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, said when announcing the next health department immunization clinic for the Walnut Creek area.

"This is why it is important for our adults to be protected with Salk vaccine as it is for our children."

Dr. Blum pointed out that immunizations are best obtained from one source of medical care—your private physician. However, he added, health department immunization clinics are held for those who have difficulty in obtaining these services privately.

The County Health Department's immunization for the Walnut Creek area will be held at the Veterans' Hall, 1250 Locust Street, from 2:30 to 4:45 p.m. Wednesday, February 25. In addition to polio vaccinations, immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox are available. Those 13 years of age and under must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Rec. Teen Clubs

The teen clubs comprised of well over 600 children from the Pleasant Hill area under the sponsorship of the Pleasant Hill Recreation and Park District have planned a number of activities for the near future.

The Junior-teen Club which is composed of boys and girls of intermediate school age is planning a dance for March 13 at 8 p.m. to be held in the Pleasant Hill Intermediate multi-use room. Also planned is an excursion to the Oakland Sports Car Show tomorrow.

This enthusiastic group held a dance last Friday and had an attendance in excess of 300 members. Dances run from 8 to 11 p.m. and are supervised by recreation leaders. By rules of the club, girls are not permitted to leave without their parents' consent prior to closing time. Membership is 50 cents per year and membership may be purchased at the door of the dances.

The High-teen Club consists of boys and girls of high school age and is self governing like the Junior-teen Club through a teen club council under the advisement of recreation leader Howard Moorman.

This club is also planning a dance for tonight which will start at 9:30 p.m. and end at 12:30 a.m.

The High-teen Club holds dances at the Pleasant Hill Intermediate school multi-use room on the first and third Fridays of each month.

The Pleasant Hill Intermediate Seventh Grade and B Recreation teams traveled to Walnut Creek last Friday and came back with a pair of victories.

In the A game it was a strong man to man defense that enabled Pleasant Hill to win 38-8. Larry Hall began getting the range for field goals in the second half and led the scorers with eight field goals and two free throws followed by Roger Mower with five field goals and one free throw. With Roger Mower and Larry Hall controlling the backboards from the beginning the outcome was never in doubt.

In the B game it was the same story of a strong man to man defense with a lot of offensive punch that won the B game 55-12. The game was never in doubt as Pleasant Hill Intermediate led 36-1 at halftime. The offensive punch was started by Dennis

Here it is again, and you can name it. We're going to get tired of putting all these question marks at the top of this column one of these days. So why not ship in your suggestion for a name today. Just mail it to the editor, on a post card or old Kleenex or something—PO Box 1038, Walnut Creek. Best name gets a year's subscription to the Walnut Creek Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun. How about you?

SOMEBODY UP THERE must like us. Lots and lots of people were entertained no end at the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce Banquet a while back, with the feature star of the evening being a Samoan knife-twirler.

Well, this same gent had a little trouble at a later, engravement in the Bay area. He let a flaming knife go and it singled a lady spectator who was standing by, open-mouthed.

No cutting remarks, please.

THE UNHAPPY (and perhaps ugliest) face in town belongs to that gentle but radiant-heat loving Boxer who regularly gets hauled out of the Walnut Heights School kindergarten.

The dog likes kids and likes warm rooms, and just sleeps in a corner. Doesn't cause any trouble, but it's hardly up to regulations to teach a dog which is not contributing tax-wise to the WC school district.

It's a real Buster Keaton comedy when ejection time comes. Vice Principal Bob Henry grabs dog by collar. Dog pants rump and all four feet firmly on floor and scowls. Henry scowls back. Then it's heigh-ho, and we go sliding out the door.

Henry likes dogs, and hasn't lost this battle yet. (We're rooting for the dog.)

Pleasant Hill Elementary Whips Diablo Vista in Rec League Play

On a windswept basketball court the Pleasant Hill Elementary Recreation team was able to squeeze by Diablo Vista with a score of 21-19. Craig Noreen, Tim Conger and Norman Kendrick led the attack for Pleasant Hill Elementary with Robert Fabian, Bill Stice and Greg Ernst assisting in the win.

In the B game it was just the reverse winner as Diablo Vista took an easy win over Pleasant Hill 14-4. Playing hard for PHE were Monty Watson, Guy Colin, Mike Dugan, Steve Clausen, Bob Skaggs, Jim Brenton, Robert Lawrence and Barry Hassan. Bad weather cancelled the C games.

FAIR OAKS had little trouble downing Gregory Gardens in both the A game 35-5 and B game 12-10. In the A game Frank Hall, Jon DeVault, Dave Metcalf, Dave Gray, Dennis Stenson, Mike Pettit, and Steve Felice outran and outmanned the four man squad which showed up for Gregory Gardens, and then used a tight man-to-man defense to hold the lead.

In the B game 12 points in the first half were enough for Fair Oaks victory. Outstanding players for Fair Oaks were Dave Juarez, Sammy Nuller, John Hall. The weather cancelled the C games.

In the game between Strandwood and Oak Park, Strandwood broke a tight game wide open in the last quarter to win 12-7 after leading 4-3 at halftime. Dennis Kutcha led Strandwood in attack, aided by Tom Berry, Jim Peterson, Mike McCune and George Davis.

In the B game Oak Park had little trouble taking Strandwood 10-3. Strandwood and Oak Park playing the only C game of the day had a close defensive battle all the way with Strandwood winning in the final quarter 7-5.

Chamber of Commerce president, but the task is evidently wearing him down.

At a recent Walnut Bowl opening, he grasped the ball firmly with the usual three fingers and grimly pitched it down the alley.

He just didn't let go soon enough, and it must have seemed like a long walk back up that alley, after he finally worked his fingers out of the holes.

No report on his score.

OVERLOOK DRIVE area folks really got hot under the collar when it was hinted that their homes are "over age". One lady loudly and proudly told attorney James Ring that her home was built in 1955. Another resident used Sun classified ads to prove that there already are lots of apartments begging for occupation and Overlook should not go "multiple dwelling." City councilmen seemed to agree.

We just couldn't overlook this item.

FROM THE BEARDED contingent. Most (or all) of us were willing to sit back and let Errol Flynn give us the straight scoop on the fighting in Cuba, but not 18 year old Jerry Gotzmer of Youngs Court.

Jerry got as far as the Cuban customs, ready to get into the thick of it — but those sticky officials said "No" which is the Spanish equivalent of the English "no", because he was underage.

So he called his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Gotzmer, let them know he was okay, and enlisted in the good old U. S. Army. That's how some of our Las Lomas High grads are faring these days. Viva!

And don't forget those names . . . we're running out of question marks! ! !

'Mommy---He Grabbed Me!' Parents, What Do You Do?

Child molestation is "one of those things" about which people are loth to talk. It is not a pleasant subject, but one which must be understood by parents, and as much as possible, by the children themselves.

A recent report prepared for the American Medical Association reports that parents can give their children "built in" protection against would-be molesters.

The report claims that parents, in their fight to protect their children, should capitalize upon the fact that all would-be molesters studied have shown one prime characteristic—timidity.

The report notes that a child who was taught to resist at the outset of an encounter usually will be left alone, and seldom will a boy or girl be pursued.

PARENTS ARE advised to teach their children that the surest protection is to resist firmly but politely all invitations from strangers.

And here's something to think about. Parents are advised that children should also be taught to report to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other trusted older person whenever any stranger:

—Asks a child to go anywhere with him—to a car, private home, movie or just for a walk. The answer is a polite, firm "no."

—Tries to talk with a child or touch him or his clothes in a theater. An usher should be called.

—TRIES TO JOIN children's games outside. Again, a firm but polite "no" is the answer.

—Offers candy or toys or a job with pay.

Teaching children to remember the rules and to carry out the instructions is one of the most delicate jobs parents face.

But a few rules will go a long way toward protecting your children. Here are some suggestions that you might want to use with your own family:

Instruct children to write down the auto license number of any stranger who invites them into the car, or to scratch it in the dirt if no pencil and paper are handy.

If a loiterer near a playground starts talking to children, they should ask him to meet a teacher or parents, and report it if he refuses.

THERE IS SAFETY in numbers, and children should be told to stay with other children, to avoid playing in deserted buildings, and to go with a pal to the playground, church movies or a store. They are never safe alone after dark.

Sometimes it is best to cushion the instructions against molesters by combining them with other less dramatic injunctions, such as "Always look both ways before starting across a street, and never get in a car with a stranger."

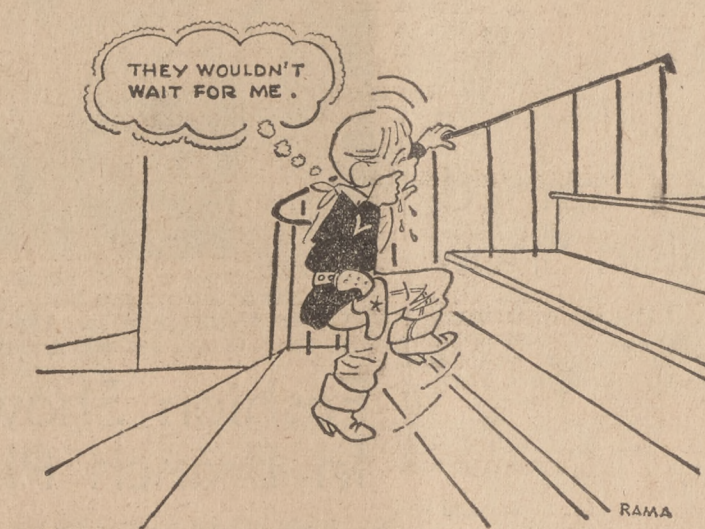

IT IS A GOOD idea for parents to know, always, where their children are, and to have them file "flight plans" of where and when they are going.

Whenever any stranger tries to grab a child, or to pull or push him, he should resist determinedly, set up an outcry and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or house.

And a final warning. Parents, never, in your excitement, punish the child or that will be the last report you will get and the system will break down entirely.

We Like It Here . . .

Pass it Through the Peephole, Please . . .

By MARIE MONAHAN

This is the Rainy Season. And around here it looks like the No Man's Land of the Nomads.

We wonder. During wet weather do your kiddies play at tent-making, that most popular of indoor games? Then you know. . .

OUR HOUSE WAS, this week, a veritable Obstacle Course. A temporary town of tents.

You couldn't see the forts for the Tepees. And the hideaways were all fashioned from the BEST blankets, CLEANEST spreads, whitest sheets. ALL hung over and around sofas, cardtables, chairs and between beds.

A visitor at the door would get the impression we were taking in laundry.

This constructive form of play takes the children just a few minutes to assemble. But it takes us WEEKS to undo.

It is a continuous maze of draped wool and linen into which the Darlings disappear through secret openings.

The Password is Peanut Butter, so of course they're always armed with a good ration of raisins, jam sandwiches, marshmallows and anything else they can secretly scrounge from the kitchen cupboard.

We are not taking IN laundry. But we will certainly be sending it OUT!

We couldn't cope with red clay pasted onto the Pepperells. Or secret codes signed in crayon on the pillow case.

You just can't win!

If another child rigs another tent in another room in this house or if it doesn't stop raining, well, we'll yell and YOUNG hear us. You'll know where to find us. We'll have built our own barricade and climbed inside NEVER to emerge.

BEHIND The Ironed Curtain, we'll be shut away by sheets from the shenanigans of the Lilliputian World.

A diet of milk and crackers never looked SO good!

Just pass them through the peephole, please. . .

Inside Out . . .

I'd Like You to Go To A Wrestling Match

By JOYCE BARNUM

At the high school level, it's pretty tough to classify major and minor sports. I'd hate to be the one to make this distinction.

Nowhere on earth can you find gladiators who strive more mightily whether the field of combat be in a football stadium or on the mat of a wrestling ring.

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT we took in the Divisional Wrestling Matches between the Foothill and the Contra Costa Divisions at Pleasant Hill High Gym.

We were able to make it only for the final matches which began at 8 p.m. This is a fast moving sport and one in which the participants put forth every bit of effort, strength and will at their command in attempting to either pin or decision their opponents.

Some of last week's 12 matches were pretty even most of the way. A couple of them were so close that overtime sessions were called. Occasionally a loser, utterly spent by his efforts, appeared ready to burst into tears. But without exception losers congratulated winners. . . and most remarkable. . . acted as though they really meant it.

Individual awards went to winners of the top four places in each of the 12 weight classes. The sportsmanship portrayed by the boys here was something rather wonderful to behold.

ONLY THE TOP TWO will go on to the North Coast Sectional Meet to be held in Hayward tomorrow. But the third and fourth place winners were busily congratulating their conquerors and wishing them well in the upcoming matches and pulling for them to go on to the North Coast Finals at Fresno next Saturday.

The boys take the art of wrestling seriously and work hard to improve their aptitudes at it. Their coaches have worked hard with them.

Nine schools were represented last week and even at the meet the coaches worked almost as hard as the wrestlers.

As the finals got underway PH Coach George Galli tried to look nonchalant, but as the matches progressed, he gripped his hands tightly together and strained every muscle striving to pull his boys through. He and his lads did well, too. Five of the PH boys will trek into Hayward for the Sectional Meet tomorrow.

AND COACH ERWIN Mattson of Acalanes started out looking quite composed and tidy. But by the time the tenth match came around Matt's shirttails were out, his hair stood on end and his during the match actions rivaled those of his Dons out there in the ring. Matt and the Dons will be pulling for seven of their matmen to go on from the sectionals.

Whether the sport is labeled major or minor and whether the match is won or lost doesn't matter much once the action gets underway. If you're a fan of high school sports you'll repeatedly see impossible feats attempted by boys who give with their all. And when that runs out, they find something extra and put out with that too.

Letters to The Editor

LIBEL
DEAR EDITOR:

I have enjoyed your newspaper and am therefore renewing my subscription. I was especially impressed during the recent elections as the paper was obviously endeavoring to be fair and objective in its coverage and editorials and seemed to be genuinely interested in the best interests of the community.

My experience with other newspapers had inclined me to believe that newspapers never operated by such highly motivated principles.

Under these circumstances I am constrained to write directly to the editor of this unusual newspaper to pose a problem which causes me considerable concern and which I submit should be of considerable importance to you.

Recently my partner, as attorney for one NICK PAGNI, tried a libel case in the Superior Court of Contra Costa County against the Richmond Independent. The jury returned a verdict of $7500 against the Independent.

I have yet to find any newspaper in the area, including yours, which carried any account of this case. I was not really surprised by this "conspiracy of silence" except that it tended to militate against what I had come to expect from The Sun.

We hear so much these days of the "people's right to know," that it is difficult for me to reconcile this concept with the actions of newspapers in refusing to recognize in their reporting that law suits against newspapers do occur. If these people have a right to know about the filing of, conduct of, and the result of law suits against individuals of every type and description, how can it fairly be argued that they don't have the right to know about law suits against newspapers?

It has been said, and as far as I am concerned, with justification, that what the newspapers really mean when they speak of the "people's right to know" is not that the "people have an unlimited" right to know about matters of public interest but rather that this right is limited by giving to the people to know what the newspapers determine that the "people should know." My argument is that if the people do not have an absolute right to know then their right is obviously worthless because what is there to prevent further invasions of this right by even well intentioned individuals once one exception is recognized.

Since generally there are two sides to every question I would be very much interested in having your views on the subject.

J. FRED HALEY

Ed. Note: The story was carried in the Oakland Tribune, The Richmond Independent and the Contra Costa Gazette. The story was not carried in The Sun since it involved Martinez and Richmond interests. The Sun only carries out of town news when it directly affects the community's residents.

NARCOTICS
DEAR EDITOR:

It is with a feeling of great relief that I have just read the letter of our assemblyman, Jerome R. Waldie, printed in The Sun, February 13, 1959.

It is apparent that Assemblyman Waldie is functioning in a clear-headed, intelligent manner in refusing to be stampeded into a hasty course of action.

Although the Elks and the signers of their petition are well-intentioned and entitled to exercise their right of petition, the solution to the narcotics problem lies in the hands of the legal, sociological and medical experts.

It is upon the recommendation of these trained people that legislation to remedy this unfortunate situation should be based.

We in the 10th Assembly District, are fortunate in having a level headed representative who, we feel certain, will continue to apply sound judgment to the many important and controversial issues facing the current legislative session.

We hope that he will be sharing this responsible leadership with the majority of his colleagues in Sacramento.

PAUL KATZ

DIMES MARCH
DEAR EDITOR:

I wish to thank The Sun for the publicity it gave the March of Dimes campaign.

I wish also to take this opportunity to thank all of the area captains and the many "marching mothers" and "marching mothers" the Girl Scouts who distributed the containers in to the stores, the Santa Maria Women's Club, the American Trust Co., the Parents' Club Coordinating Council, and, of course, the most important of all. . . the people of Orinda, without whose generosity the success of the March of Dimes could not be possible.

It was a very heart-warming feeling to be able to ask the wonderful people for assistance in this most worthy cause and have them answer "I'd be happy to help" and then have them follow through.

So, again may I say thank you all.

VICTOR M. KINGSTON.

Shall We Increase Taxes Or Use the Big Knife?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Do you want to pay two or three cents tax per pack of cigarettes? Additional taxes on beer and petroleum products? More state income tax?

Well, folks, you probably will. Governor Pat Brown has asked the legislature for $265 million dollars a year in new taxes to balance the largest budget in the state's history. Half of these taxes are for increases over last year's budget; half to make up the deficit. (The governor inherited some of this problem).

Well, what's the alternative? I suggest the governor and legislators buy dozens of sharp knives and scissors and start making great economy cuts on the budget.

What do you do?

What do you do in your family or business when expenditures become larger than the income? You stop spending as much money.

Certainly something may be sacrificed. On the state level, we may have to sacrifice some new services. On the other hand, I feel certain that many economies can be made within the administration of all departments of the state government—without substantially hurting services rendered the people.

Californians are paying more taxes than residents of any state. Is it not time for a great economy drive?

Let's look at another issue facing the legislature—narcotics control that we've discussed before. Incidentally, narcotics petitions are still coming in.

Put them in the hospital?

Attorney General Stanley Mosk recommends a program with great merit: Put all addicts in state hospitals until it is safe to release them.

"If we can eliminate paying customers by removing them from circulation, we will advance a long way toward destroying the illicit narcotic traffic," Mosk, a former judge, declared.

Suspected addicts should be put into state hospitals for at least a 90-day observation period. Those who prove to be actual addicts would be held as long as necessary for protection of society and themselves as well, he said.

After release, the addicts would be on probation for five years and would be tested frequently to see if they have gone back to using narcotics.

It sounds reasonable to treat the addicts in a hospital, rather than a prison. In either case, they are taken out of circulation. Then, however, let us make certain that we jail for a long, long time the non-addict who sells narcotics.

The Elk's Narcotic Plan (30 years minimum) may not be the sole solution. Perhaps it should be modified or changed. Let the experts give testimony; let the legislature and governor enact legislation. But let's act on this terrible problem.

The Sun strongly endorses a bill sponsored by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson of El Sobrante. It aims to open Alameda and Contra Costa reservoirs of EBMud to fishing and other recreational uses.

Shall we fish?

This was so stated in a recent Sun editorial. Louis Bruener, president of the EBMud Board, mentioned one error that was printed. We hereby correct it: The water of San Francisco's Lake Merced are not part of their water system. The Sun was in error.

Let me emphasize, however, that fishing and recreation is going on at Pardee Dam, the source of EBMud's water that we drink. It is of course, treated and filtered, as would be the waters of San Pablo Dam, Lafayette Reservoir and other EBMud's local reservoirs if and when used for fishing and recreation.

A Happy "George Washington Birthday" to you.

Letters to The Editor

OAK HILL

DEAR EDITOR:

Once there was a happy little road. It was happy because it didn't have to carry much load. It led to approximately a dozen homes above it, and part way up it passed the doors of the Lafayette Sun, and at that time even the traffic to that point was comparatively light.

The little road was strong enough to shoulder its burden.

Then came progress. A by-pass was built. And the by-pass selfishly squatted directly across First Street, shutting it off from through traffic. The solution was simple—an access road named Turner Road was built parallel to the by-pass so that the hundreds of residents of the Valley View and La Cuna developments could get in and out.

So could the many delivery, service, and moving trucks that frequent a residential area.

But the job was incomplete. The engineers got away with murder. The victim is that once happy little street—Oak Hill Road. The one block that must now carry 10 times as much traffic as formerly already puts grandma's patchwork quilt to shame with its potholes and patches. What sort of engineering is this that overlooks such an obvious problem?

I'm sure that the state or the county, or both, have a responsibility here. That block of Oak Hill Road should have a stronger sub-surface and surface immediately. So should other similar sections. And let's have COMPLETE engineering in the future.

MOTHERS' MARCH
DEAR EDITOR:

It is with a deep sense of gratitude that we are happy to report good results from the Mothers' March, Tuesday, Feb. 3. Your able assist in publishing our little reminder was of great import, showing the reader interest in your editorial page. We are particularly thankful to the many mothers for their efforts to make collections and to the chairman, Mrs. McNulty, for her untiring efforts to organize the march. May we add that anyone not contacted, wishing to contribute, is requested to just phone the writer and someone will call to pick up whatever amount can be given. The fight goes on hourly to stem the tide of misery; may it never happen to you!

LARRY BLAKESLEY,
Chairman, March of Dimes
Lafayette Area.

GOODWILL
DEAR EDITOR:

Thank you, residents and groups of Contra Costa County for your generous support of the Goodwill Industries service to the handicapped.

Your contributions of usable clothing and household articles helped to provide job training, spiritual guidance, medical assistance and social contacts for 418 handicapped folks in 1958.

Many have taken better jobs and found a self-respect through turning disability into ability. The important thing is they all had a chance because you cared enough to call and gave them materials to recondition which provides their job security.

MRS. SALLY ROST.

TRANSIT
DEAR EDITOR:

(The following letter was sent to Jerome Waldie, Assemblyman, 10th District, and a copy was sent to The Sun. It is as follows.)

As an improvement group representing the entire San Ramon Valley area, we wish to urge your support of pending legislation which will facilitate exclusion of the San Ramon Valley from the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

We feel very strongly that we are being taxed for a transportation system from which we receive no benefit.

Secretary,
MRS. LUCILLE ADAMS

THANKS
DEAR EDITOR:

The sponsors of the Lafayette Senior Recreation Club are most grateful to The Sun for the publicity given to the opening of the Paper Weaver Thrift Shop at 3437 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

This new project has been started to make the Senior Club self-supporting. The heart-warming response of The Sun and the merchants of Lafayette has been most encouraging to the women who are giving their time and efforts to this community service.

We do thank you.

MAC DUNCAN

Let's Get Running, Just as The Red Queen Told Alice...

The County Government Committee of the Contra Costa County Grand Jury recently recommended strongly that the county adopt an executive form of government.

The report stressed the need for a strong executive to operate the county and called for many of the positions which are presently elective to become appointive.

We endorse the stand of the grand jury with the exception that we feel that the sheriff should remain an elected official as well as the district attorney.

BUT CERTAINLY, as far as the need for a strong administrator, with increased power to function is concerned, we concur heartily with the grand jury.

It should be noted that the county is presently taking steps in this direction with the appointment of Mr. McBrien as county administrator and through increased powers to him that have not been available before.

But the county has, by no means, gone far enough in this direction.

A recent recommendation to the board of supervisors, made after the grand jury recommendations had been made public, suggested that the answer lies in full-time supervisors with increased pay.

This is not the answer, though. This would simply provide five heads-of-government.

THE FUNCTION of the board of supervisors should be that of a policy making body, not an administrative group, or an executive branch. The board should be a policy making and legislative branch.

This board should be comparable to the board of directors of a big corporation. In such cases the board of directors does not act as an executive arm.

There are two possible ways of accomplishing this. One is through establishment of a charter form of government, but this is complicated and would take a long time to effect.

The other, and apparently more practical solution, is to have the California Legislature change the laws of the state, permitting the counties to adopt this legislation to their particular uses.

SUCH IS THE recommendation of the grand jury. And progress is being made in this direction. Assembly Bill AB-922 is pending in the legislature at present and it would permit counties to make most offices appointive, except for the district attorney, sheriff and county assessor.

We are the largest county in the state which does not operate by a charter form of government. We are the largest county which still operates under a "cow county" form of government.

Changes are in the works, and it is about time.

As Alice was told, in "Through the Looking Glass":

"You have to run twice as fast as this, just to stand still."

Let's get running!

The Staff Corner

Buckle on the Armor...

By DICK OSBORN

Had a pretty interesting experience a while back, which I think I can share with you.

Talked to a pretty bright bunch of students at one of our local high schools. I'll have you know that this appearance was completely unsolicited on my part, too.

I didn't even have to twist the editor's arm. Of course, I once bought a martini for the class advisor and teacher, but that couldn't have a thing to do with it.

WELL, THE CLASS asked me, via neat letter, to please talk about editorials and the editorial page. Now if there is anything in this world I'm an authority on, that's probably it, because I have been looking at them til my eyes are bloodshot (that's my excuse for my appearance.)

So I showed up (on my day off, yet!), bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, and talked to these eager young things about editorial pages.

Threw in a few standard jokes about publishers and all that jazz and gave 'em the general low-down.

Then came the revolution—the question and answer period. Found myself faced with questions like:

"Tell me, what are you, personally, working for. For money? Because you feel that what you do is art? Because the experience is satisfying? Why?"

Have you ever tried to answer a question like that?

WELL, PANIC SET in and fortunately, I turned numb from the neck down. (My friends have already accused me of being numb from the neck up.)

I don't know what the kids learned from that little session, but brother, I learned a lot.

And lo, the word travels—"here's a real poker. Sign this guy up—you may not learn about editorial pages, but brother, what a square—strictly fried shoes—from nothin'."

Anyway, have invitation from another high school to repeat the performance come March.

IF THESE KIDS are as bright and alert as the last class, I know what I'm in for, and I'm afraid this is correct, because our youngsters seem to be getting a pretty good education.

But I'm going to fool 'em. I'm going to know what I'm talking about this time!

They'll never recover from the shock!

Oriental Theme Planned For Spring Fashion Show

Fashions created in Oriental materials by American designers will be seen at Delta Delta chapter house February 26 at 1:30 p.m.

Co-chairmen for the spring fashion show and dessert, sponsored by the Berkeley alumnae chapter for the benefit of its scholarship program, are Mrs. James B. Pritchard and Mrs. Howard Leggett.

The fashions, to be modeled by members chosen from the active chapter and the alumnae group, are being furnished by the Japan Trade Center, San Francisco. This is not an active selling organization but was opened in San Francisco in 1954 as a permanent agency to serve international trade interests.

The oriental theme, which will be carried out in decorating the chapter house under the direction of Mrs. Richard Bradshaw, will incorporate art objects and materials supplied by the trade center.

Assisting the co-chairmen as committee members are Mrs. Garfield Anderson, Mrs. Robert Gever, Mrs. Edward Franklin, Mrs. Robert Flournoy, Mrs. Harold Kjarsgaard, Mrs. Emmett Ford, Mrs. Will C. Hall and Mrs. Donald Ellis, as commentator for the event.

Mrs. Richard Sutherland will welcome the guests. Bay area Tri Delta friends are invited to make reservations by calling Mrs. Dwight Vorkooper, LA 6-4179.

Entertain Mothers

Tigerlily Bluebird girls, under the leadership of Mrs. James Crowley, entertained their mothers at a Valentine Tea February 10.

Refreshments following the Valentine theme were served by the girls: Mary Crowley, Elise Colman, Stephanie Guillee, Sandy Kammerer, Carrie Jo Queen, Kim Radcliffe and Dorothy Smith.

magazine and Better Homes and Gardens have been obtained as commentators for the fashion show. Ardith Lazzareschi, who took top honors at the Towhee Tinsel Tea for her tree display, is in charge of planning the three tea tables and you can be sure they will be "fantabulous".

Judges for the floral entries will be the Mmes Edward C. Counter Jr., Clifford A. Smith and Doris Munster. One of the very best affairs of spring—DON'T miss it!

Let's go vacationing. Margaret and Bob Martin of Concord and three sons spent a weather-gorgeous weekend on the Mendocino coast recently and Vawn and King Tolles enjoyed attending the Kiwanis convention in Bakersfield—King is Pittsburg's new Kiwanis prexy.

Lee and Wally Garard are on a five week's cruise aboard a freighter bound for South America. Many ports of call are on their itinerary—among them Cuba. Who knows if that will be a stop or not—at least we may hear some first hand news of activities there.

Harriet and James Goodhue flew to Fresno where they spent a few days attending the Young Republican convention and Roz and Paul Gailus recently attended a real estate convention in San Jose as Paul is the new real estate board president in Concord.

The Larks' "Mardi Gras" was WONDERFUL as was Orinda Country Club's "President's Ball" and the "Diablo Cotillion"—more on those next week.

As always, the "Hill 'n' Dale dinner-dance was a glorious affair. The William Higgins and the Donald Normans are co-chairmen for all of this year's events at the Orinda Country Club.

Tables were centered with exquisite floral arrangements and softly glowing candles. Two of the many pre-dinner parties were given by the George Shanks of Lafayette and the Ed Bergens of Orinda and hosts at some of the tables were the Joseph Rupleys, Paul Ayers, Lloyd Rasmussens, Zach Montgomerys and Edgar Stewarts.

Swingin' and Swayin' couples...

To mention a few of the swingin' and swayin' couples, there were the James MacDonalds (Ramona will be the co-ordinator and commentator for the up-coming "Orinda Branch" of Children's Hospital fashion-luncheon February 25), John Sexsons, Hi Hennings (Shirley ever so glamorous with a new hair-do), Ted Sawyers, E. E. Carding, Ed Bakers, Don Whites, Richard Starnes, Art Selfators, Robert Moorheads, Duncan Knudsens, "Mo" Moores and William McGuire.

To the members' delight there will be an "extra" dance April 25. Ruby and Vance Perry entertained fellow members of the Lions Club dance committee with a scrumptious brunch last Sunday at their home on Cherry Lane. The Chet Arthurs and the Mickey Reillys were among those attending.

A gourmet dinner was given by Betty and Dave Young for some of their local friends and fellow members of the East Bay Food and Wine Society. Some of the guests were the president and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. John Bullware, Jean and "Mac" Ma-teer and Connie and John Goldens. Many others were on hand to sip and taste—yummm!

Marge and Richard Bartle invited about 24 former classmates and spouses (Stanford) for a buffet supper recently.

Wearing hearts on sleeves, perhaps?

The ever darlin' "Doves," a junior unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, walked away with honors for their "Hearts on Parade" fashion-luncheon held at El Nido on the seventh. Attractive Jane Church, president, was the commentator and Georgia Stubblefield and Judi Whelan were responsible for the gay red and white (what else?) table decorations.

Some of the cute teen-agers who modeled and a few costumes: Judy Courtwright in a swimsuit over which she wore a kind of Gay 90's poncho; Barbara Piazza in a striking royal-aqua-purple striped swim suit; Barbara Roberts in a gold and white checked school dress; Joan Westfall in a white dress topped with a zay red and white trimmed navy cardigan, and Helen Godet in a fabulous red jersey date dress—trimmed with a huge red rose.

Some of the beautifully gowned spectators: Mrs. Richard Lieber (president of the "Flickers," the unit which sponsors the "Doves") wearing a royal tweed sheath with matching hat trimmed with royal veiling and crisp bows; Mrs. Harold Vincent (advisor) wearing a sleek black frock and sophisticated satin turban in shades of lavender and purple; Mrs. Richard Olson (second advisor) in a blue suit, pink and white floral blouse and white cloche; Mrs. Robert Patrick (accompanied by her visiting sister, Mrs. Richard Kincaid of Grants Pass, Oregon), wearing an oh! so smart cream knit dress and full length crimson knit coat; Mrs. Clay Southard in a smart pearl-grey suit and charcoal chapeau and Mrs. Robert Curtis (who did such an outstanding job on the "Christmas Gift Box") wearing a sleek black frock sparked with a tremendous white collar.

Parties in "Sleepy Hollow" are ALWAYS fun—what a group of neighbors! Last Wednesday, Dorothy (Mrs. Arthur) Lundblad entertained with a "coffee" in honor of Margaret Ann (Mrs. Colon) Brown who will soon be moving to Buffalo, N. Y.—much to the disappointment of her many friends. Artistic Dorothy's delicacy-laden table was a thing of beauty, indeed! A white lace cloth lay over red satin and a fountain of red and white carnations arose at the center.

And just EVERYBODY was there...

Towards either end plump, red valentines were encircled with carnations. Bea (Mrs. Art) Comerford busily poured coffee and tea. Both the living and "garden" rooms were filled with chattering (YOU know how it is!) ladies some of whom were: Ruby Huntley, Billie Greenlaw, Ruth Fields (who was wearing an unusual appliqued black sweater), Betsy Kilburn, Mildred Pride-more, Edith Seaten, Rosemarie Rinne, Caroline Read, Esther Johnson and Ethel Tyrell.

We have another Therapy Unit to welcome to the fold—the "Swallows." All of the charter members live in Lafayette and have been busy-busy with organizing. On two different days the ladies toured the Center under the guidance of Juanita Benoy, director. Each day they were served tea by members of other units. The Swallows' first president is Mrs. James Simonds (whose husband, bless him, has been helping the Center for all these many years—on the board, with advice and with building our lovely new building). Other members are the Mmes. M. E. Barkley, George Sanko, Peter Grayum, Gordon Frazell, Richard Emory, Jack Franck, R. Bruce Stringer, Charles Nunes, Leo Schell, Cameron Ashby, Dick Rockwell, William D. White, Robert Heaton, John Wakeman, William Nuoffer, Willard Burton, John Gilcrest and Philip Chance.

Their first official meeting will be held at Mrs. Ashby's home on North Lucille Lane and the first project will be entering a floral display at the "Flamingo Floral Tea" on March 3. Mrs. Barkley and Mrs. Nunes have volunteered (?) to do the arrangement. While we're on the subject—members of the Flamingo Unit are going ahead enthusiastically with plans for this—the sixth annual—floral tea and fashion show which will be held, as usual, at the Diablo Country Club.

This will be a "swingin'" deal...

The Acalanes wrestling team led the field in the Diablo Valley Athletic meet held at Pleasant Hill High School Saturday.

They wound up with three champions, and four second place men to qualify seven for the North Coast Section I meet to be held in Hayward High School tomorrow.

PLEASANT HILL qualified five, Pacifica four, Pittsburg three, Mt. Diablo three and Clayton Valley two.

The Don winners were Richard Polk, 127 pounds; Bob Marelo, 133 and Jerry MacPherson, 138.

Mt. Diablo High had three winners in Chet Belknap, 145; Al Hagerstrand, 175, and Bruce Olson, heavyweight.

Pleasant Hill capped a pair of titles with George Bruns winning at 154, and Watt Dalthe at 191.

PACIFICA WINNERS were Jerry Lucero, 112, and Stan Hallmark, 165.

Pittsburg capped a pair of titles at 103, with Frank Gutierrez and Carl Younger, 120.

The meet consisted of four top place winners from the Contra Costa Division meet, and the top from the Foothill Division meet, both of which were held on February 7.

The meet at Pleasant Hill was held on an individual basis, with no team scores.

An unofficial team score in accordance with the rule book provisions gave Acalanes 102 points, Pleasant Hill 63, Pacifica 50, Mt. Diablo 48, Pittsburg 48, Clayton Valley 25, Miramonte 21, Las Lomas 15, and San Ramon 6.

THE TRIALS began at 11 a.m. and ran until 3:30 p.m., with finals in the consolation bracket getting underway at 6:30 p.m., followed by the final matches which ended at 9:30 p.m.

Pleasant Hill Principal Arthur Bloom presented ribbons to the winners in each of the 12 weight divisions, after each of the final bouts.

HAL BRIGGS of Pleasant Hill was meet director.

Caballeros Wave Red Flag At Bullfighters; Nab Win

The Acalanes Dons had their day Tuesday afternoon when the Bees defeated the Matadors 39-35 and the varsity followed with another spine tingler when they edged the home club 30-26.

The varsity won kept Miramonte from cinching the pennant and kept both Acalanes and Las Lomas hopes alive as they are one game behind the Matadors with two games to go.

THE DON CREW took an 8-5 first quarter lead with both clubs playing a tight defensive game.

The Dons really sewed the contest in the second quarter when they went out in front 19-11 at the half.

The Matadors proved their mettle in the third quarter when they outscored the Dons 11-4 to cut the Acalanes lead down to one point at 23-22.

In the final quarter the Orinda team went ahead at 25-24 only to have the Dons come back, go ahead and stay at 26-25.

Knight Defense Breaks Don Scoring; Win Keeps Las Lomas Hopes Alive

The Las Lomas Knights varsity hoop team rode to another down-to-the-wire win over the Acalanes Dons, last Friday night in a 45-44 game, after the Bees walked to a 55-40 victory over the Don Babes.

The game was a tight defensive battle with both clubs working for their shots.

THE GAME found Acalanes holding a 13-11 first quarter advantage, but trailing, 24-21 at the half.

The margin remained the same as each quintet hit for 13 points in the third quarter with the score tied on three occasions, at 22-22, 24-24, and 32-32.

In the final quarter, Acalanes fell short when they outscored the Knights 10-8, only to drop the game by a one-point difference.

The Knights won the game on the boards, taking 45 rebounds to 38 for the Dons, with Clark Ramsome of Las Lomas doing the big damage as he gathered in 13 rebounds on his own.

INDIVIDUAL SCORING honors were split when Tom Nichols hit for 13 points for Las Lomas, and Neil Simpson did the same for Acalanes.

Bob Gomez with nine and Larry Drummond with seven points were the next high scorers for Las Lomas, while George Memans with 7, George Meems with 6 and Paul Colin with 6 paced the Dons.

In the shooting department, the Knights connected in 16 of 45 field goal attempts, compared to the Dons' 14 for 51.

Neither club hit well from the free throw line, with Las Lomas hitting for 13 for 23, and Acalanes 16 for 30.

In the Bee game, the Knights were hot at the hoop as they scorched the Dons, 55-40, with Harold Stephenson getting 15 points, Rene Brandt 13, Bob Morin 13, and Bud Murphy 10.

CHRIS RENNET topped the Dons with 15 points, followed by David Stegman who had 13 while John Zennotti had 5 as did Bill Albert.

Dan Glover rounded out the scoring with two points.

Meet the DeVeronas

DONNA DEVERONA is a pert little miss who just about busted every swimming record around. There'll be another DeVerona in the news soon because Donna and Mamma have their eyes turned on Kirk, the newest member of the DeVerona family. —Sun photos by Mattson

If You Spot DeVeronas in the Headlines It's A Sign That We Have a New Generation Around

The DeVerona family which resides at 3404 Hall Lane, Lafayette, has a habit of making the news.

Daughter Donna, known to many by an abbreviation of her second name as "Liz", hit the sports headlines last week when she took the all round trophy awarded at a swim meet held at the Alameda Naval Air Station.

TO DO IT, she won five first places, breaking two national marks in the process.

Donna, 11 years of age, has been swimming competitively for just a little over a year, winning her first medal last season in the Alameda meet.

Since then, she has collected 30 medals in addition to the trophy and on the basis of performance, this is just the beginning.

She began swimming when she accompanied her brother Dave Jr. to the Las Lomas pool where he was taking physiotherapy treatment after a knee operation to remove bone chips.

Her first instruction was in diving under the direction of French McGuiggan, 1945 A.A.U. champion.

SHE ENTERED her first meet at Albany and shortly after went under the instruction of "Finn" Ruuska, one of the top mentors in the country.

Other proteges of Ruuska are his daughter, Sylvia, a national champion who very recently broke records while touring Australia.

Another pupil, Mary Lou Elsenior of El Cerrito is a national champ in her own right.

RUUSKA SAW a bright future for Donna who does all four basic strokes well, as shown by her win in the 200 yard individual medley in the Alameda meet.

Donna is a pert and pretty miss, who is very modest about her many accomplishments and as a result is very popular with her fellow students at Happy Valley School.

Twice a week, she goes into the Treasure Island pool for workouts and will enter competition again tomorrow, when she swims in the Fresno Invitational and follows up with a dual meet at the Athens Club of Oakland on February 27.

BROTHER DAVE is trying for a spot on the junior varsity baseball team at Acalanes High as a catcher.

Dave Stegman had 12 for Acalanes while Phil Albert had 8.

Dave is a freshman, and played center and linebacker on the undefeated frosh team, while acting as defensive captain.

Sister Joanne at age 6 is showing promise as a swimmer on her own, but is at the temperamental age where she swims when she wants to and its no go if she doesn't.

THE LATEST ARRIVAL is Kurt, a very young lad who arrived on February 7, weighing in at 7½ pounds and in accordance with papa Dave, is the strongest little rascal he ever saw.

The DeVerona name is familiar to sports followers, as papa Dave made the headlines many a time with his athletic prowess.

HE STARTED PLAYING football at Point Lomas High, located in San Diego.

The school was small, around 300 and the football candidates scarce, so in three years of playing Dave played every position in the line at one time or another.

He came to the University of California and played the game from 1935 to 1939, with his varsity play coming under Coach "Stub" Allison, often referred to as the Old Sarge.

The team went to the Rose Bowl in 1938, with Dave playing tackle, and a teammate of such names as Vic Ballari, Perry Schwartz, Vard Stockton and Bob Herwig, to mention a few.

IN ADDITION to playing football, Dave was on the Cal Crew that was the Pacific Coast champion in 1939, and set a record at Poughkeepsie that still stands.

Mama DeVerona met Dave during the war years, when he was in Washington, D. C.

She was Martha Smith of Columbia, Penn., at the time, but all that changed when Dave "fell" for the pretty little blonde.

The family moved to Lafayette in 1953, and the following of sports has been a natural thing.

DAVE SENIOR has been very active in the local youth activities, taking part as manager and coach in Youth Baseball, as well as organization of the program.

Last year, he started the Youth Swim movement with more than 1500 individuals taking part in the program held at the Acalanes High School pool.

It looks as if the DeVerona name will hit the news for a long time to come.

Coach in Dumps; Baby Girl Brightens Things

By ERWIN MATTSON

Coach Bob Callan, Miramonte's popular and effective hoop mentor, has really been having a time of it, as his varsity team consistently leads the pack in the Foothill division, and he has been winning a lot of close ones.

His club lost a heartbreaker to Acalanes last Tuesday afternoon and his spirits were mighty low.

They took an upswing however when a brand new baby daughter arrived at 7 p.m. the same evening.

BABY, WHO WEIGHED 5 pounds, 11 ounces, and mother were reported doing fine, and both will soon be welcomed home by Bob and his three sons.

The little one was promptly named Maryjean Dorothy Callan. The Mary is a name mamma liked; the Jean and Dorothy after the two grandmothers.

Fred Rupprecht, an outstanding wrestler at Pleasant Hill last year is currently doing well in the mat game at San Jose State, where he is rated a standout performer. He is now a heavyweight at 205 pounds, after competing last year in the light heavyweight division.

One of the questions often asked nowadays is when will Acalanes get a new gym, or some put it, "a gym?"

IT IS INTERESTING to note how times have changed — in 1940 when built, it was the county's best—today it's the poorest.

Originally it was to be a girl's gym, with a boy's gym to be built in 1943. The war came and that changed plans.

The war ended and the area grew so fast that new schools — Las Lomas and Miramonte came into being. Next year, Tice Valley opens as La Valle.

The chances are a gym is a long way off but somehow it seems a bit ironical in a community with so much that a modern school has to hold a student body meeting in sections.

It certainly doesn't help a school morale — but it all comes down to a problem of money and that's a problem in this day of the dollar that has less value.

THEY BUILT THE SCHOOL, bought the land and paid the first year of operations of Acalanes back in 1940 for something a little over $350,000.

Next year the new school opens at Del Valle with approximately the same size — cost will be close to four times as much as Acalanes in its beginning.

Spring sports were to open in the Foothill Division last Monday but the rain really slowed things down.

Baseball, track, tennis, swimming and golf candidates are eagerly awaiting good clear weather and working in a modified program in the meantime.

The swimmers can practice, and the track men can go at it in the gyms when available, but its far from satisfactory.

Golf and baseball—as well as tennis are able to do little until things dry up.

ONE THING THAT can deceive you is to work pitcher and catcher out indoors. The pitchers really look and "sound" fast, inside. Being closed in makes the ball seem to move faster and the pop of the ball in the glove echoes much louder inside.

A coach often gets the feeling his pitcher is really much faster than he actually is, and he slows down once he hits the wide open spaces.

He will still be ahead of the hitters who take time to get their eye on the ball, and their timing adjusted.

Fortunately youth adjusts rapidly, and even those coming from basketball will round into form in relatively short order.

Takes Orinda Play

Mrs. J. W. Small walked away with medal play honors at the Orinda Country Club with her 85-11-74 in Class A play.

Other winners in class A were Mrs. Bee Calder, 75; Mrs. Peter Batch, 76.

In Class B, Mrs. E. C. Bergen picked up a 100-23-77 to lead the field while Mesdames H. S. Worthington, 83; C. Johnson, 81, followed.

Class C: Mrs. E. S. Maloney, 105-29-76; Mesdames J. H. Cadien, 76, and T. Haws, 79.

Eagles Snarl Ram Attack 70-48 Here

The Pleasant Hill Rams ran into trouble last Friday night when they met up with the Clayton Valley Eagles, and lost in no uncertain fashion. The varsity went down 70-48, after copping the Bee tilt, 48-33.

The win put the Eagles in the top bracket, and assured them of a playoff berth in the final week of play.

AS OF TUESDAY, Pittsburg led the Contra Costa Division with seven wins and two losses, while Clayton Valley, Mt. Diablo and Antioch all had 5-4 records.

The Rams were in the sixth (3-6) place, while Pacifica rested in the cellar (2-7).

Wolverine Five Gores Highlanders

The San Ramon Wolves showed the Piedmont Highlanders who was boss last Friday afternoon, when they played the Piedmont five on their own court, and waxed them 54-36, in the varsity game, and took the lightweight preliminary, 43-41.

In the varsity tilt, the San Ramon five stayed within range in the first quarter, but San Ramon forged to a 29-19 half-time lead and had things well in hand the rest of the way, staying in front, 42-27, at the end of the third quarter.

Panthers Claw Rams on Woods

Antioch came to town last Tuesday afternoon and proceeded to rack up a pair of wins taking the varsity contest 56-43 after lowering the boom on the Bees 35-28.

Alumnae of Sigma Kappa Sets Events

A full spring schedule is planned for Sigma Kappa Bay Cities Alumnae. Mrs. William E. Judson, president, has announced the calendar of events for the next months.

Plans for the spring were formulated at a buffet supper meeting at the home of Mrs. T. N. Taylor, St. James Drive, Piedmont.

The week of February 8-15 has been set aside for a series of telephone bridge parties to be held at the homes of different members. Mrs. C. D. Marsh is chairman of this affair, which has become a very popular yearly event for local Sigma Kappas and their friends.

On Monday, March 2, all local Sigma Kappa Alumnae will join with the active members of Lambda chapter to hear Mrs. E. Kern, a Sigma Kappa from UCLA, the director of the Campus branch of the YWCA.

Mrs. Kern, former Assistant Dean of Women at UCLA, was chosen by YWCA officials to escort a group of students from the United States on a tour of Europe. Of special interest was their trip behind the "iron curtain" to Moscow and Warsaw.

Plans are also being made for a rummage sale in April, and the annual party for the Lambda graduating seniors in May.

Grand March, Conga Line at Bridge Party Orinda's President's Ball

Orinda Country Club president Don Doten and his wife Pat were on the receiving end of the biggest Valentine of all Saturday night.

The annual President's Ball this year was turned into an old-fashioned St. Valentine's Ball honoring the Dotens as well as past presidents, board members and their wives.

PEPPERMINT - STRIPED carnations with tiny pearl heart-pins were given the honored ladies and many a man borrowed a red carnation from the table flowers for a boutonniere for his white coat. The crowd was five-deep at the bar during the club-hosted cocktail hour from 7:30 to 8:30 and there were kudos later for the chef for an epicurean delight of a dinner.

Festive and frilly as a vintage Valentine was the ballroom swagged with overhead red and white streamers, chubby cherubs, hundreds of red hearts and balloons. And just preceding the ceremonial cake-cutting at midnight by prexy Don, the throng of party-goers formed a long conga line to Jimmy Diamond's playing of Colonel Bogey's March, that erstwhile martial tune from "Bridge" that literally stirred everybody out of their seats and onto the dance floor.

Pat Doten, pretty in petal pink chiffon worn with silver sandals, joined her husband in receiving good wishes from fellow members and their guests.

At the President's Table with the Dotens were the William McNeVins of Happy Valley, the George Russells and Lloyd O'Connells of Orinda and the Donald Phippses of Oakland.

ONE OF THE MOST February 14th frocks was the one worn by Alyson deLaveaga, a rich red strapless side-paneled silk down the front with bronze brilliants. She and her husband Ned shared a table with the Robert Bolmans and Ramsey Underwoods.

Casual Wear Feature of Orinda Show

Fashions for country living will be in the spotlight at the Orinda Country Club on Wednesday, February 25, when Orinda Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay stages a fashion-luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Bermuda shorts, a fast favorite of both active and spectator sports enthusiasts, will be shown in a rainbow of colors, as well as other outfits casual in feeling but elegant in cut and design. The clothes will come from the collection of Irene Sargent, an apparel shop in Oakland.

Chairman of the fashion show committee is Mrs. J. H. Hennings, who is planning a "Harlequin" theme for table decorations using gay hat boxes filled with flowers and masks. Assisting Mrs. Hennings are the Mesdames Robert Hill Bolman, C. Fred Borden, Edward C. Dougery, Fred Goodwin, Robert Jurs and Ernest Kahl.

Mrs. James MacDonald of Orinda Branch will commentate the style show for which models have been invited from a number of other branches. They will be the Mesdames William D. Higgins of Orinda Branch; Richard Hofmann of Pepper; Albert Johansen of Mayten; William Keating of Lombardy; James C. McGeehon of Walnut; Mel Nielson, associate member of Walnut; James P. Sun Society High Kicks and Hula Hoops For Leaguers and Husbands

By MARIE MCNAHAN

The weatherman's downpour didn't dampen the stage-struck spirit of local Junior Leaguers and their husbands. They turned out en masse at the Talent Hunt party held at the Claremont recently to start work on the stage review "Viva La Theatre."

The follies-type show, so successfully a part of the first "Daze of Gold" benefit held last year, will be repeated again this year at the gala party February 27. It will be a completely new production under the direction of talented Howard Miller of New York.

AND THE FACT that the big affair is less than a week off doesn't faze the participants who are rehearsing day and night. They know from last year's experience, however tired their muscles will be, the show will be sparkling entertainment—especially for those IN it.

Sally Wiser of Orinda is among those practicing the Hula Hoop routine nightly at the Claremont where rigorous rehearsals are under way.

Among local couples going through their whirls and high-kicks are the Phil Angells, Jack Danas, the Johnson Clarks, all of Lafayette; the Brad Heards, Bill Platts, Bud and Janet Yager of Orinda, and Jean and Jim Edwards of Walnut Creek. The Clarks, by the way, were among the first "casualties" when they took a tumble during some Latin terpsichore.

Nancy Longacre and Carol Platt, both Orinda leaguers, are co-chairmen of the Talent department.

LOCAL MEMBERS of the Oakland Junior League who will model Joseph Magnin modes to the tune of Paul Speegle's witty commentary are Cynthia Stampey and Patsy Ruth French, both of Orinda; Rene Dana and Barbara Wells of Lafayette; Marilyn Glover of Walnut Creek and Sally Peterson of Danville.

Tickets for the peekaboo-preview, the night of the dress rehearsal Thursday, will be available at the door of the Claremont's Gold Room at 8 p.m. that night—a real bargain at $1 for adults, 50 cents for children.

The Big Evening, the following night, Friday, is $25 per couple. Further "Daze of Gold" information can be obtained from Barbara Donalds, LA 4-5780.

Scholarship Group Plans Spring Dance

The California Alumni Scholarship Committee for Contra Costa County has announced plans for its annual spring dance.

Mrs. Greg Englehard of Orinda is chairman of the affair, to be held at the Walnut Creek Elk's Club on Friday, April 3, 1959. Music of the Gordon Heche band will be featured.

Proceeds from this annual affair will be used to help finance scholarships through which promising local high school graduates may attend the University of California. The application deadline for these scholarships is March 1, 1959.

Mel Arishi of Orinda, co-chairman of the Diablo area group with Mrs. Laura Odell of Walnut Creek, has appointed various sub-committees to share the fund raising responsibility. With two more Contra Costa high schools graduating seniors in 1959, the committee hopes to surpass last year's achievement of eight scholarships awarded.

Acalanes Trustees Meet With Parents

Acalanes High School District trustees explored curriculum and finance problems with parents at the monthly Acalanes Parents Club meeting Monday.

Board president William Lee outlined the areas of activity tackled by the board and emphasized that local trustees felt "their role is primarily a policy making one."

TRUSTEE MRS. ALICE McBride compared the district curriculum with recommendations of the recent Conant report on secondary education noting that "local high schools compare most favorably with Conant's recommendations where it is within the financial ability of the district to do so."

Dr. Ralph Hall of the board substantiated the district's claim that the current educational program is "sound and produces an above average student product," citing the "higher than average" scores of Acalanes District pupils in the nationally standardized Iowa Achievement Tests and the "excellent record of district graduates at Stanford University, the University of California and other colleges across the nation."

Trustee Will C. Hall surveyed the district's financial problems, pointing out that the "rate of increase in enrollment is outstripping the rate of increase for the district's property tax base. Even though more homes are going up, each home brings in more children for local schools than the taxes on that home support."

Hall predicted the need for calling another tax limit election sometime in the future. An earlier tax limit election last February was defeated. No date for a second election has been set yet.

"As a result of the failure of that tax limit election the board has been forced to curtail buses, refused to grant a request for salary increases last year for teachers, increased the class load on pupils per teacher and generally trimmed expenditures for capital outlay—books, supplies and other materials," Hall stated.

Trustees contended that "1. the substantially increased enrollments ahead; 2. the need for additional school buildings; and 3. the need to increase teachers' salaries this year to keep salaries competitive and compensate somewhat for the increased load put on instructors by the seven period day recently adopted for next year, require positive financial support for local schools if an adequate educational program is going to be maintained for high school children in the community."

Buffington Named YMCA President

Reed Buffington was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association, according to John Price, executive director. Other officers elected included Bud Stout and Irv Deutscher, vice presidents; John McKinley, secretary and Lee Russell, treasurer.

Directors include Rube Friedrich, Joe Jonker, Rett Turner, Ted Barcelona, Ray Taber, Dick Stultz, Mel Pekrul, James Roos, John Tague, Warren Deverel, Dave Bortin, Dr. Robert Taines and James Walsh.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Canyon Resident

Orville N. Williams, 41, of Canyon was indicted by the San Francisco Federal Grand Jury last Friday on charges he used the mails to advertise and deliver pictures of nude women.

Assistant United States Attorney Fred Watson, said Williams admitted that he engaged in a mail order business for a short time while he was out of work last spring.

He got the pictures at an Oakland news stand and copied them to fill orders at up to $5 a dozen, Watson said.

Federal inspectors seized 27 of the three by five inch photos which they stamped as pornographic and unfit to go through the United States mails.

Candidates File For Board Post

Although the election is more than three months away, eight incumbents and three non-incumbent candidates have filed for school board posts, said County Superintendent Floyd Marchus this week.

The election will be held in Contra Costa County on May 19. Filing closes April 17.

'Rainmaker' Announced As Next for Dramateurs

Friday evening, February 27 at 8:30 p.m. will be opening night for the next production of The Dramateurs who will present The Rainmaker, a recent popular Broadway hit and movie.

The Rainmaker will be given for five consecutive weekends, making the last performance March 28. Each weekend the production will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Due to the brisk demand for tickets The Dramateurs have set up a system of reserved seats procedure.

All seats will be reserved and it will be necessary for people to call Hinks Book Department in Berkeley, Thornwall 5-1100 for reservations. Tickets may be picked up at the Hall in Lafayette, where the play will be given, on the evening for which the reservation has been made.

In the past, The Dramateurs have experienced the situation of people coming to the Town Hall and purchasing tickets at the Town Hall and being able to get a seat because they came early. People who had purchased tickets perhaps a week or two in advance came closer to curtain time and some were told there were no more seats available.

The Rainmaker is being directed by The Dramateurs veteran director Carl Rasmussen.

The role of "Starbuck" who is the rainmaker in the play, is taken by Louis Spruance. Opposite him as "Lizzie Curry" will be June Griffin. The Curry family also includes James Harris as "H. C." the father, "Noah," a son, is played by Rolfe Williams, and "Jim" another son is played by Ray Howard. John Read plays the part of "File" and "Sheriff Thomas" is portrayed by Philip Stearns.

Director Rasmussen is being assisted by Helen Blankenburg, Corrine Newman, and Oreallia Salonen. The set has been designed by Richard Robinson and is being constructed by a committee headed by Steve Swartz. Lighting will be supervised by John Whara and furniture and properties are being handled by Diane Davis and Judy Eckerman respectively.

Since obtaining a long term lease on Town Hall, effective September 1, 1958, The Dramateurs have been engaged in a rehabilitation program which is now well under way. Under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Betz the lobby has been completely renovated and painted and papered, which The Dramateurs believe will meet with the full approval of their followers.

Under the direction of Robert Hanford, contractor and member of The Dramateurs also, the stairs and risers from the lobby to the second floor have been completely rebuilt, a draft stop has been placed in the attic, additional risers have been constructed to provide for a different seating arrangement from the usual seating arrangement in the round.

In the past, changes have been made in the heating system by transferring furnaces from one part of the building to another where they will serve the most good, and a complete new lighting grid, that is a permanent improvement, has been installed in the ceiling on the second floor.

In addition, all of the broken windows have been replaced and the windows have been rooled and repainted. The rest rooms have been remodeled and repainted and there are a number of other improvements that The Dramateurs will be making in the months to come.

The Dramateurs originally started in 1943 by some of the mothers in Orinda who produced plays for their young children. In 1946 the men became interested and for three consecutive nights at the Orinda Country Club in April 1946 The Dramateurs, then known as the Orinda Dramateurs, produced "Ten Nights in a Barroom" with olio.

Since that time The Dramateurs, as they are now known, have been producing plays given at Orinda School, Acalanes High School, Berkeley Little Theater, and now at Town Hall.

Marine Reserves Plan Dinner Fete

Celebrating their fifth anniversary as a unit in Walnut Creek, East Bay Marine Corps Reservists of Volunteer Training Unit 1229 will gather for a dinner-dance at Treasure Island Naval Base at 7 p.m., March 7.

Capt. William K. Durkheimer, coordinating arrangements for the annual fete, announces that the evening will be open to members, their wives and guests, and to friends of the Marine Corps.

The affair will take place in the "Treasure Room" of the Commissioned Officers' mess at the base. Cocktails will be served from 7 p.m. Dinner will begin at 8:30 p.m. followed by dancing. The dress will be informal.

"An excellent dinner will be enjoyed by those attending," Capt. Durkheimer states. It will include a sea food cocktail, prime rib of beef, dinner wine, and the traditional Anniversary Cake with ice cream as dessert.

Lt. Col. Louis G. Madsen of 1521 Brook Street, Walnut Creek, commanding officer of the unit, will welcome all members and guests at the "Cake-cutting Ceremony."

Enrollment Hits 7394 at Colleges

Snow-Scoops

By GARY BARNETT

After skiing for practically every weekend of every winter for the past 20 years, statistics and the law of averages have finally passed sentence on Vi White of Magnolia Court.

Competing in the qualifying race for the Oakland Ski Club Championships, she fell five gates from the finish and broke her ankle. The break isn't serious, but she will be deprived of her favorite pastime for a couple of months.

On the other hand Kit Carson White, metropolitan columnist, placed in the qualifying race and will take part in the championships annually held at the Sugar Bowl tomorrow and March 1.

The downhill is Saturday and the slalom Sunday.

Student Nurses Get White Caps

Forty-nine students at Merritt Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland today are wearing the starched white caps which mean they are no longer probationers, and can look forward to graduating in August, 1961.

Capping ceremonies took place February 6 in Oakland's First Christian Church, where K. L. Roy Hamman of the hospital's board of directors was the principal speaker.

Those who received their caps included Margaret Blythe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Blythe, 3723 Highland Road, Lafayette; Sally Marcella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Marcella, 99 Karen Lane, Walnut Creek; Marilyn Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Merrill, 8 Altairinda Drive, Orinda; Inger Holmsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Strom, Colfax, a graduate of Pleasant Hill High School; Beverly Weil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson H. Weil, 1954 Shuey Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Be sure and give your baby sister the telephone number of your local police agency.

Actor-Singer's Car is Clouted

Popular actor-singer John Raitt reported to the Contra Costa Sheriff's office last Friday that his car had been clouted while he played golf at the Orinda Country Club.

Raitt, who was appearing at the Fairmont Hotel, had gone to play golf in Orinda with Cecil Roark of San Francisco, according to the sheriff's report.

The clubs were stolen from the Roark's car, deputies said, after the thief forced the car open to gain entry.

Roark discovered that the clubs were missing at 5:15 p.m. when the pair was leaving to return to San Francisco.

Weinberger Speaks At GOP Dinner

Former San Francisco Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger was guest speaker for Contra Costa Republicans observance of Lincoln's birthday.

The event was held at the Hotel Don, Richmond. More than 100 GOP members attended.

Scotsmen Lose To Knights Too

The Las Lomas Knights wrapped up an important varsity 47-33 win at Piedmont last Tuesday afternoon, to keep their championship hopes alive after dropping the Bee opener, 33-31.

The Knights weren't at their best, but still managed the win after taking a first period 12-10 lead and taking a 22-16 halftime lead.

IT WAS SEWED up in the fatal third quarter when the Knights hit for 17 points to Piedmont's 4. Using substitutes freely, the Knights dropped a 13-8 fourth period effort, but it fell far short of altering the final result.

Clark Ransome drew praise for his all-round play, while taking high point honors for the Knights with 10 points.

Steve Ricketts and Chet Miles were best for the losers as each had 6 points.

IN REBOUNDS, the Knights were well in front, 43-26, while hitting for 38 per cent, with 18 for 48 from the floor, and 11 for 17 or 65 per cent in the free throw line.

Piedmont hit for 24 per cent with 11 of 45 field goal attempts, and 61 per cent from the free throw line, with 11 for 18.

In the Bee game, Piedmont upset the Walnut Creek club, 33-31, with Steve Hogan leading the way with 14 points.

BOB MORIN led the field for the Knights with 13.

The Knights are one game out of first place in the varsity division, with the crucial game on tap when they play league-leading Miramonte next Tuesday.

Car Checks; Driver Too; Two Arrested

Deputy Sheriffs Fred Teuscher and Bill Waldeck of the central county substation made a clean sweep last Friday morning when they picked up a juvenile suspected of child molestation and an escapee near Pleasant Hill High School.

The two deputies had just picked up the first youth for interrogation when Teuscher spotted a car driven by Charles Sommers, Oakland, a California Youth Authority parolee, who had escaped early in the week from juvenile hall.

At first, the 17-year-old gave the deputies a false name, then he explained that the car he was driving had been loaned by a relative, then he stated that he had lost the keys to the car and "hot wired" it. Then he admitted that he was the escapee, after the two officers checked with juvenile hall officials.

Inspector Norman Wilson praised the two officers for their "keen awareness of the bulletins which had been issued on the youth and the ability of being able to spot both the car and youth out of the hundreds of students in the area."

Writers Group Will Discuss Market Means

The meeting will be devoted mainly to a discussion of marketing techniques. Frank Melchior, editor of a trade journal, will act as moderator.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in the field of writing.

'Strep' Cases On Increase; Symptoms To

"There has been an apparent increase in streptococcal infections in some areas of Contra Costa County in the last two or three weeks," Dr. John Baier, assistant county health officer, said this week.

Commonly, such infections involve the nose and throat or the ears. Unfortunately a variable but low percentage of the normal population carries and spreads a variety of streptococcal germs without the carriers themselves becoming ill, he said.

Hence, the germs are always in the population with only the occasional individual becoming ill with a "strep" infection. Occasionally, for some unexplained reason, an unusual number of "strep" cases will develop.

Some types of streptococcal germs are harmless and some can cause serious disease.

Because it is difficult and expensive to identify these organisms frequently, their relation to illness can not be proved. However, when one has symptoms and signs suggestive of such an infection he should see his physician for medical evaluation.

The common "strep" throat is usually of sudden onset and causes headache as well as pain on swallowing.

Usually the throat becomes quite red and the glands in the neck may be swollen. Fever may range from 101 to 104 degrees.

In children there may also be abdominal pain as well as nausea and vomiting.

Occasionally a "strep" throat may cause a generalized rash, then it is called scarlet fever.

With or without a rash, the illness is the same and is amply serious to deserve a physician's care.

Complications may occur with ear and sinus infections or even pneumonia, and on rare occasion streptococcal infections can lead to heart or kidney damage.

Anyone who has symptoms suggestive of a streptococcal infection should avoid close contact with others and is strongly advised to promptly consult his physician.

This is especially important for any family that has had a history of rheumatic fever. Modern drugs, properly used, will usually lead to prompt cure of streptococcal infections and help prevent spread.

Deputy District Attorney Grade I, $530 to $644: This position offers opportunity for trial practice, a complete cross section of criminal and civil cases and direct participation in the investigation of crimes with police agencies. Applicants must have graduated from a law school of recognized standing and have active membership in the California State Bar.

'New Eyes' Are Sought in County

Cast off glasses, sun glasses and jewelry are being collected in Contra Costa County to help provide glasses for the needy in the United States and in many other parts of the world.

Miss Zella Parker, coordinator of "sight saving," Contra Costa County schools, will accept the items at Room 203, Court House, Martinez, and forward them to "New Eyes for the Needy, Inc.," at Short Hills, N. J.

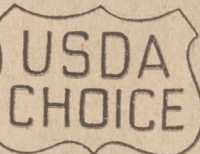

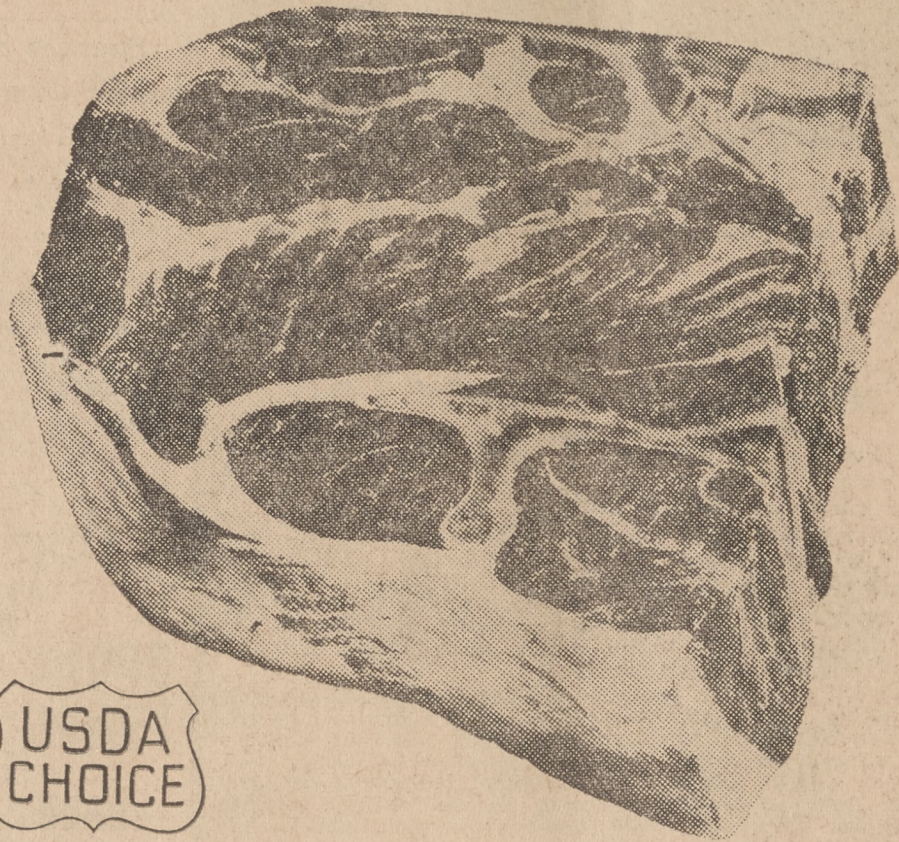

Miss Parker said that the lenses and frames from old glasses may be reused and that metal frames and gold and silver scrap are sold to a refinery. New prescription glasses and artificial eyes are provided by the "NEN" throughout the United States and reclaimed glasses distributed in Africa, Asia, India and elsewhere.

Be sure and give your baby sister the name of someone nearby to contact in case of emergency. Be sure and leave the telephone number of a police agency, fire department and doctor, too.

Mrs. Esther Doell of La Serena Avenue, Alamo, discovered that it was easy to sell a combination of things, like a vanity dresser, twin bed, box spring and mattress, table, rocking chair, tea wagon, sunlamp, and so forth—when she tried The Sun classified section.

Her story is typical for the hundreds and hundreds of people who each week place a Sun classified ad.

R. J. Schunzel of San Luis Road, Walnut Creek, got quick results when he advertised his 1950 Hillman, that "needs work." One ad did the trick.

It didn't take long for R. E. Henderson of 1930 Alvina Drive, Pleasant Hill, to find an eager Sun reader interested in his La Monte clarinet, "practically new" and he became another satisfied Sun customer.

For one low price, the Sun classified ad goes into the Sun Shopping News, delivered to 38,000 homes each week, and into the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun—regular subscription newspapers.

This is the best and most complete treatment offered by any central county newspaper, and for that reason, there are more Sun classifieds than in any other local paper, and many more readers.

The number is YE 4-5000 or AT 4-4444.

You may drop in or place your ad by phone by Tuesday morning at 10, in any week you wish the ad to run. Monday is a good day to call. A 14-word ad costs only $1.60.

'Holidays' Open At Nevada Lodge

The Holidays, featuring beautiful Kay Stevens, opens Wednesday in the luxurious theater bar of the glamorous 100-room Nevada Lodge, entertainment center of the scenic North Shore of Lake Tahoe.

Kay Stevens, a vivacious former fashion model, leads the Holidays through sketch after sketch of laugh-laden comedy antics.

Add to Kay's unparalleled sense of humor her fine soprano voice and its readily apparent why the group has received rave reviews for their performances in Las Vegas and Miami Beach.
